ROOTS TO BRANCHES: THE ART OF GROWTH

2024-07-15 - 2024-07-20

"Roots to Branches: The Art of Growth" symbolizes the journey of development and expansion. It highlights how growth starts from a foundational base (roots) and progresses outward and upward (branches), much like personal and artistic evolution.

This theme emphasizes the interconnectedness of our origins and the various directions in which we expand and grow.

Elizabeth Nana Ama Aboagye is a mixed-media artist that shares personal narratives and self-discovery trips. I portray narratives and feelings using acrylic paints, canvas, and organic materials.

Elizabeth capture transitional moments between identity and growth. Inspired by life's complexities and delve into the mysterie challenges we encounter.

Clowns represent joy amidst adversity, while butterflies, shells, and blooming flowers symbolize hope, transformation, and resilience.

Elizabeth love incorporating textures like sand, shattered bottles, ropes, and shells into my work. Through my art, I aim to evoke strong emotions and spark reflection on life's overlooked beauty. My pursuit of new expressive avenues aims to enhance homes worldwide while fostering aesthetic.
